MID-WINTER AT ALPHA DELTA PHI

Cornell University has not escaped the snow, ice and cold of a winter that has been unusual in its severity the nation over. But the rampages of winter can create beautiful scenes, as the above picture of the Alpha Delta Phi House taken in February will testify.

Executive Councilman Young Discusses National Problems, Activities in Talk to Undergraduates

Brother John M. Young '28, Cornell's representative to the Executive Council, gave a talk to the undergraduates in December on the activities of the Executive Council. Outlining the organization of the council, and giving a general idea of its policies, Brother Young told of some of the problems the council has faced.

Young discussed the rehabilitation of the various chapters after the war, and the crowded living conditions in many of the Houses. He mentioned the tendency in some colleges toward the abolishment of the fraternity system, and warned that the conduct of each and every fraternity man was of utmost importance to the continued success of the fraternity. The Alpha Delt song album, and the new policy of sending the minutes of the Executive Council to the individual chapters were other topics with which he dealt.

The council as a whole is interested in the broad policy aspect of the fraternity. Representatives make arrangements for the yearly national convention, the expansion of new chapters, controlling the Seward Scholarship Fund, and sponsoring of the literary contests.

Young deplored the absence in many of the chapters of the urge to literary endeavor. He pointed out that the council does not want to exert pressure on the individual chapters to conform rigidly to its policies, but would like to work hand in hand in controlled discussions with them. The House appreciated Brother Young's visit and talk.

Grosse Pointe, Mich., Trio Gain Top Offices; Cudlip Is President

Three Alpha Delt from the same home town—Grosse Pointe, Mich.—were chosen as the three top House officers for the Spring term at elections held in January.

Jack Cudlip '48 gained the presidential chair, Hilary Micou '48 was elected vice-president, and Jim Kennedy '50 moved into the secretary's post. Cudlip replaces Alabaman Vern Whitaker '48, while Micou takes the position held last term by Ben Huske '48 of North Carolina.

James Thomas '50 succeeds Hil Micou as rushing chairman and Cornelius "Nick" Reid '49 was named new social chairman. Lewis "Newt" Thomas '51 was elected to the athletic chairmanship, and Roger Brown '50 was unanimously reelected as historian.

Whitaker, retiring president, deserves our plaudits for the fine job he performed during the past term, as does Huske, who helped to keep House affairs running smoothly.

Cudlip was rushing chairman in the fall of '46, and social chairman last fall. He is president of Kappa Tau Chi, Administrative Engineering Society, and on the Board of Managers of the Ski Club. Micou is a Cornell cheerleader, former editor of The Alpha Delt, and a varsity trackman. Both Brothers have been otherwise active in the House and on the campus.

Jim Kennedy, third Grosse Pointe contribution to the Senate, has gone far since his arrival in the fall of '46. Jim will be one of the mainstays of the varsity tennis team this spring, after his splendid record on the frosh squad last season.

The House has already seen Nick Reid in action as social chairman. Reid and retiring social chairman Cudlip engineered the most successful Junior Weekend in years in early February. Jim "The Senator" Thomas is an excellent choice for the job of rushing chairman. He's started work already with his spring rushing program. Much of his time will be spent this spring around the baseball diamond, since Jim is manager of the Big Red nine.

Newt Thomas, a West Virginia contribution, is one of the mainstays of the House athletic teams, and a "natural" for the position of athletic chairman. Newt is out to win the intramural trophy again this year. Roger Brown's work as historian speaks for itself, and his capacities in that post are echoed by his reelection.

'Goat House' Being Repaired; Downstairs Hall Is Painted

Those of you who have visited the House recently know that the "Goat House" has seen its best 50 years. This building, given by Bascom Little in honor of his brother, Hiram Little, who died in 1900, has seen many of us come and go, and the years have taken their toll on the inside shell of plaster and lath.

In the interests of safety, the active Chapter has not used the lodge recently, but we are now tearing out the inside shell in the hopes that we can convene under the skeleton of the outside masonry, without the impending danger of falling plaster. Possibly by late spring, it will again be in

House Entertains Faculty, Underprivileged Children, With Christmas Parties

On an afternoon just before Christmas, some of the brothers were returning to the House from the Hill, and they were met at the door by a dozen, running, yelling and happy children. The annual Christmas party for underprivileged children was underway.

First on the list of activities was a fast moving game of "follow the leader," led by Brother Frank M. Knight '50. This strenuous pastime was followed by an interesting movie on the habits of monkeys and apes. Brother Pete Allsopp '49 entertained with unusual facts on the life of an orangutan.

A classic remark heard from one of the kids just after the movies began was: "Well, when does the party start?" Brother Bob Entenman '51 served as referee and restrainer for a lad who promises a great future as another Brown Bomber.

Wives of Brothers Andy Dann '48, Glenn Daly '48, Dave Klauder '49, Jack Cunningham '48 and Jim Bryant '50 were on hand with large safety pins in case of emergency. A big plateful of cookies and ice cream from the House's concession topped off the afternoon's festivities.

The House also entertained the faculty before Christmas with a party, with 200 faculty members being invited. Egg nogs, especially mixed by Aaron Wells, proprietor of Zinck's, were served, along with hors-d'oeuvres. Hill coeds acted as waitresses especially for this occasion.

Brothers Ballard, Von Wrangell, Arthur and Keenan provided entertainment with individual novelty acts, with Knowlton, D. Read and H. Micou supplementing with background music. Keenan topped off the evening with some stirring western ballads.

In the House itself, the main downstairs hall was painted during the Christmas vacation.

The above photo shows Chuck Von Wrangell '48 attempting to manipulate a slide rule, and otherwise concentrate on his studies, on one of the especially cold days which have hit Cornell this winter. The House was forced to do with a 15% cut in oil during successive days of sub-zero weather, and Brothers were scurrying around in extra clothing in an attempt to keep warm.
